Back Testing

Before back testing please activate your copy of Fast Forex Millions. When back testing please make sure you use Every tick for the testing, to make sure it has at least 90% modeling quality. It is important to make sure the data is up to date. Please also back test during open markets as some brokers will take on fake spreads over weekends when markets are closed possibly negatively affecting the results in a false manner. Please choose expert properties in the strategy tester in order to adjust settings accordingly.

Proper Money Management ( IMPORTANT )

It is important you understand the proper management of your account with Fast Forex Millions. You have a few options. You can seek to do low risk and aim to grow your account slowly with minimal risk or chance of damaging your account and reward of course being smaller. You can do medium risk or you can do elevated risk, which can cause larger swings in your account, but you have the possibility of exploding your profits quicker.

In robot settings you will see RiskPercent. Here you can enter any number including 0 for lowest risk. For lowest and safest risk I recommend 0 – 3. This will be safe growth, but still aims for much more return than you will traditionally find and is typically recommended.

For medium risk you can try 4 to 8, which you can risk some higher drawdowns, but more growth than lower risk.

And for higher risk you can do 9 and up. 15 is high risk but can generate much higher returns. Be very careful as this can put high risk on your account. But in turn can result in big gains. If you do try it, we recommend doing it temporarily then lowering risk again.

Please note when using all pairs with 10 risk it can risk up to 50% of your account. So please consider using a lower risk, we highly recommend below 5.

Trade Frequency And Length

Fast Forex Millions will trade often. It is compliant with FIFO and Hedging rules (for no hedging you must turn off Dual mode). Generally a trade will last up to 24 hours on average, but statistics show around 17 hours max.

Brokers And VPS

Fast Forex Millions is not urgently broker sensitive as we have tested it on a few brokers and have found it trades generally the same. Generally, though we have specific brokers we do recommend based on higher quality servers and handling of trades.

But it should work well on multiple brokers. Keep in mind there are less reliable brokers so please watch out for them.

A VPS is not urgent, BUT highly recommended to keep the robot running 24/7.

Patience

It is important to understand Forex is a volatile investment. A strategy can have winning streaks and losing streaks. This robot has been tested and designed to work in many market conditions and work for a long time. But there are certain times where market conditions may not be ideal. For these times the lower risk setting will hang in just fine and recover easily. The higher risk in these times can see higher drawdowns. Please be patient through the markets as this robot works well and designed with an advanced strategy based on a proven method. We are also here to help via e-mail if you have any concerns.

Then you will see FastForexMillions below it as seen below. Click and drag FastForexMillions on to each currency pair / chart opened up. Please first scroll to Step 12 to see the screen that will pop up for each pair.

Step 12:

Please read on for an explanation of each setting. Please note it is imperative you put your receipt into the ReceiptCode field in order for the robot to work. In addition, there is further instruction for activation below.

Market Execution - If set to true the robot will open a trade, then modify the trade to set stop loss and take profit (sometimes there may be no take profit, but there will always be a stop loss). When set false, the robot will open a trade and set stop loss and take profit at once. Not all brokers support this. If unsure default is recommended.

Reverse Exit – When true, the robot will close the trade if signals reverse and profit level declines.

DualMode – For brokers that do NOT allow hedging, please set this to FALSE. When true, the robot can open up to a maximum of 2 trades per pair in both SELL and BUY direction, in order to hedge a position. FilterDepth will be set at x 2 for this mode.

FilterDepth – This can control the trade filter sensitivity. If a broker is more prone to manipulating trades to benefit themselves it would be best to increase the filter number, this will result in more quality trades, but will result in less trades. This is good for unstable markets as well. If you decrease the number there will be more trades, but more risk and drawdown.

Risk Percent – The percentage of your account risked per trade based on account free margin. Highly recommend 0– 3 for safe growth. Default of 10 is higher risk. Please adjust accordingly.

FixedLot – By default when this is 0, Risk percent will be used. If you set this to the lot size you want, it will use this lot size only.

Magic – No change necessary. This identifies each trade to the robot.

Slippage – Auto detects broker digits for slippage. Default recommended. Will trade when slippage is less than this number.

PerATR– Period used in ATR indicator, this is used for dynamic trailing stop.

KofATR– Factor of length for use in trailing stop.

kTP– This has to do with a factor of taking profit as well. (dynamic)

OrderComment – You can hide the comments of the robot from your broker.

ReceiptCode – Please enter your receipt you received from purchase. It's 1 account per license. You can change the license anytime. The one there needs to be deleted and replaced with your receipt.

Next click OK. After this the screen will show:

Yes it will say NOT ACTIVE. First you need to take the UserID see in the image.. 1963522692.. for you it will be another number. Then go to:

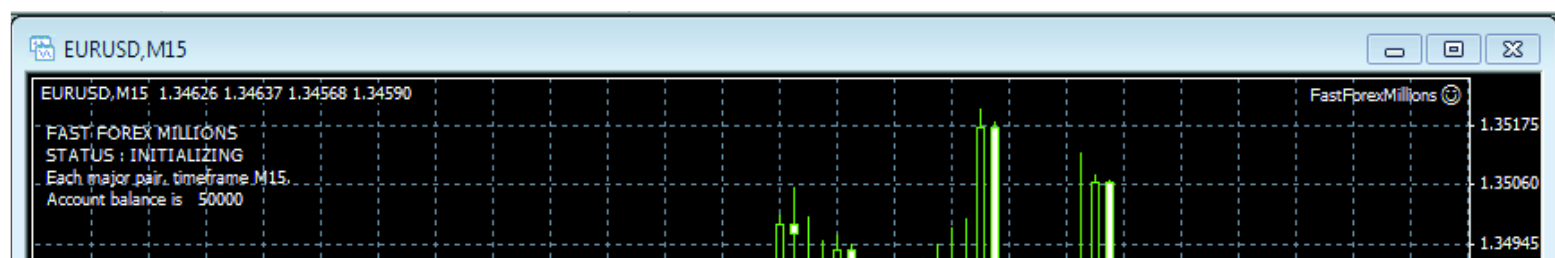

Ö <http://www.fastforexmillions.com/activate.php>

Enter your receipt, e-mail address, and the UserID code and click Activate.

Once confirmed.

Restart Meta trader 4 by clicking X on top right corner of screen. And then open Meta Trader 4 again.

After you have started Meta trader 4 again, the following chart will be shown, it will show initializing until the price makes another movement. Then it will activate. Each chart will then say, STATUS: ACTIVE. Now you must leave MT4 running 24 hours a day 7 days a week.

Please be patient as sometimes it may take some time to activate and may say NOT ACTIVE on a few pairs when done correctly. Just wait while it activates.
